

December 21, 2010 – For Immediate Release

The Senior's Choice is pleased to announce our Winter 2010 Caregiver of the Season: Suzanne Becze of Amy's Helping Hands in Windsor, Ontario, Canada. Suzanne has been selected as the Winter 2010 caregiver of the season from a group of over 250 companies and 20,000 caregivers across North America.

Suzanne joined Amy's Helping Hands in July 2009 and has since proven to be a very valuable and loved member of our caregiving team. Suzanne's genuine desire to help the elderly was evident from the day she introduced herself to Amy's Helping Hands.

With experience as a nurse's aide in Florida in addition to caring for several members of her own family, she is able to draw on these experiences to help a number of our elderly clients. Suzanne's outgoing and magnetic personality makes anyone feel comfortable within minutes of meeting her, and as a result, she gains the trust of her clients very quickly. She has a sharp wit and a great sense of humour, which people find refreshing.

Suzanne is always up for an adventure. Whether it's taking a walk while having a nice chat, to having a "girls day out," she makes the most of each visit to ensure that the client is always happy!

Suzanne has also played a key role in being a patient advocate for a couple of clients, one of whom could possibly have suffered grave consequences if not for her sharp eye and quick actions. She has not only offered great support and companionship to the clients she helps to care for, but to their family members as well. Suzanne developed a very close relationship with one of her clients and was able to offer him the support and caring compassion that he needed up to and including the hours before he passed. This was especially comforting to his wife and children during such a difficult time. Suzanne's dedication and passion for helping others is why she has been selected as our Caregiver of the Season.

Congratulations Suzanne!

Sincerely, Amy Szewczuk, BScN
